

A NUMBER OF THEFTS

Reported to the Police From Various Parts of Town.

BURGLARS ENTER TWO GROCERIES

And Carry off a Considerable Quantity of Goods and Small Sums of Money—No Clue to the Guilty Parties—Youthful Thieves Live Fat off Their Spoils.

Sometime between Tuesday evening and yesterday morning a burglar, or burglars as the case may be, entered two groceries on the west side of the Centre Market square, and secured a pretty good haul.

The stores were those of John Kennon and Sam McKee, just below Twenty-second street. The robberies were not discovered until the groceries were opened for business yesterday morning, and then there was no clue to the guilty parties.

At each place a quantity of goods was stolen, but just what the amount in each case was could not be definitely got at. At each place, also, a small sum of money was taken, but in neither case was it over $5 or $6, only a small amount of change being left in the money drawers.

This seems to be one of a series of robberies, some of which have come to the ears of the public, and some of which have not, having been kept from the newspapers. The South Side seems to have been particularly unfortunate in this regard, as several of the robberies have been in that part of town.

Two Precocious Thieves.

On Friday, May 20, Mrs. Lowry, who keeps a boarding house on Main street, near Eleventh, reported that thieves had stolen from her house $30 in money and a gold ring. There was no clue to the perpetrators.

Yesterday Officer West arrested Lottie Burrows, aged ten, and Onelda Howard, aged thirteen, on the charge of stealing the money and ring, and after being locked up for some time they confessed their guilt, and said they had been stealing for some time. The ring, a valuable one, was recovered, having been pawned for a dollar. The girls said they had kept the money buried till it was all spent. They had bought bananas and ice cream with it, and had spent $5 for jewelry which they had sent to a little girl at New Martinsville.

Inquiry showed that the last part of the story was true. Mrs. Lowry seemed to think more of the ring than of the money, and as she did not care to prosecute the children they were released. It is a pity that something cannot be done to reform such young criminals before they get old enough to send to the penitentiary.

He Stole Shoes.

Last evening a man entered a shoe store on North Main street, kept by a woman, and going to the back of the store, engaged her in conversation. While he was talking to her a man who was with him stole a lot of shoes from in front of the store, where they were displayed, and made off. Later he was arrested, and proved to be Simmy Gordon, who has several times in the past been in similar trouble. He said he did not know the other man, but he will probably be caught. Gordon spent the night in the lockup.

The Pioneer's Picnic.

The Pioneer Verein had a good time yesterday at the Park. A big crowd left early in the morning on the Elm Grove car and took the Opera House orchestra along. Lots of people went out in the afternoon. The weather was nice and the Pioneer and their friends enjoyed themselves immensely. The storm in the evening put a stop to the fun, and the seven o'clock motor brought in the last of the picnickers.

An Awful Street.

Two milk wagons and a coal wagon broke down yesterday on Charles street. Milk and coal were mingled with the deep mud in inextricable confusion. The street is in worse condition than a country corn field. There is talk of having a special map prepared, showing Charles street as "unexplored," and sending it to the Board of Public Safety.

THE NEW BANK OF WHEELING.

A BOOM IN BUILDING.

Fine New Structures to Go Up in Wheeling This Season—A New Bank.

Wheeling is now undergoing one of the greatest building booms that it has experienced for years. All the local architects have about as many plans under consideration as they can handle, and most of them are ready for the contractors. Over a million dollars will be spent this year in new buildings and extensive alterations of old ones.

Yesterday an INTELLIGENCER reporter had a chat with several of the leading architects, and all expressed the idea that the people in this vicinity have advanced in their ideas of architecture, and now demand that buildings shall be finer and more modern than ever in the past. The days of plain front, with five windows and a door, the style of residence built in the past, has given way to a more diversified style, and in a number of places stone is replacing brick rapidly.

As to suburban residences now in course of erection, there are not any finer or more beautiful in the country. All this goes to show that people are going in as much for beauty as for comfort. All the public buildings and business blocks are being constructed on more metropolitan lines than heretofore, and next year will show even a more marked advance. Already business men are having plans drawn for six and eight-story buildings, and at least two such blocks will be well advanced by the end of this season.

In the designing and supervising of buildings Mr. M. E. Giesey has always had his full share.

THE NEW JAIL

which was designed by Mr. Giesey, will be finished within three months, there-siden being about finished now. The work is being rapidly pushed on the cells, and work has begun on the steam heating apparatus. The building when completed will have all the modern improvements.

The new Sixth ward school, which will cost over $40,000, has been started, the foundations having been completed. The new addition to the Fourth ward school, which is under the superintendency of Mr. Giesey, will also be finished this summer.

Among the numerous buildings designed by Mr. Giesey are four new brick residences for John E. Clator, to cost $14,000; a three story brick residence and store room for Albert Schan, on Fifteenth street, to cost $8,000; a pressed brick residence, with mansard roof, on Chapline street, for Christian Schnepf, to cost $7,000; a frame residence for Miss Sarah Harper, on South Front street, Island, to cost $3,000.

The additional story on the I. O. O. F. hall, to cost $10,000, is also his work, as is the additional story on the Hotel Vancouver, to cost $3,000.

A brick residence for William H. Travis, on South Chapline street, to cost $6,000, is also being built by him.

Among his other jobs are a frame residence for Isaiah Warren, on Fourteenth street, to cost $2,500; a three-story stone-front building for W. H. Frank, on Twelfth street, to cost $10,000; an addition to the private hospital of Dr. R. O. McMaster, on Chapline street, to cost $10,500; an addition to the building of J. Bayha, on Market street, to cost $1,800; the residence of Ralph Whitehead, on South Penn street, Island, to cost $3,000.

He is also remodeling the front of the residence of J. T. Goodwin, on Sixteenth street.

A frame residence for J. R. Acker, in Pleasant Valley, to cost $3,500, is under way, and Mr. Giesey has drawn plans for a brick residence for W. J. Burley, of Moundsville, to cost $5,000; for W. R. Humphrey, of Moundsville, to cost $5,000; a large frame residence for J. C. Bardall, of Moundsville, to cost $9,000.

Among his other work in this vicinity are the new I. O. O. F. hall at Triadelphia, to cost $2,500; a brick residence for Mrs. George Zwickler, of Fulton, to cost $2,500; a new front for C. W. Appenzeller's store at Bridgeport, two-story business block for August Schick, of Bellaire, to cost $9,000; a new school on the German Lutheran church in Martin's Ferry, to cost $2,000; a double frame residence for Dr. W. S. Fisher, of Bridgeport, to cost $3,500; frame residence for David Bronson, of Flushing, to cost $2,500; David Alexander, of Moundsville, to cost $3,000, and Mrs. McCoy, of Sistersville, to cost $2,500.

The enterprising firm of architects, Leiner & Faris, have also a great many buildings under consideration and in course of construction. Among the more prominent ones are the new PRUDEN INSURANCE COMPANY'S BUILDING, on Market street, to be built of brick and granite, at a cost of $40,000. This building will be four stories in height, with a brick tower in the center, and with all the modern improvements, electric light, mail chute, elevator and steam heat. On the first floor will be two large store rooms, which extend up to the third in the back. There will be thirty office rooms above, with janitor's quarters. The interior throughout will be finished in natural wood.

The Bank of Wheeling will be another big improvement to Main street. The front will be built of granite, highly ornamented, two stories in height, but equal to four ordinary stories. The ornamental windows in the first story will be protected by fancy iron grill work. The interior will be completely remodeled and finished in hard wood, with tile floors, which will make it one of the finest banking institutions in the city. The above illustration shows how imposing the front will be.

Another large business block will be that of Stone & Thomas, the dry goods merchants, on Maine street. It will be four stories in height, with a cast-iron front, and all the latest features of such a building. The interior will be finished in natural wood, with maple floors and steel ceiling. The block will cost $30,000.

This firm also has the St. Matthews rectory, a handsome stone house, harmonizing in architecture with the church, and to cost $10,000.

They also draw the plans for Hunter's new spice mills and ketchup works, on the corner of Main and Twentieth streets. This block is to be built of buff fire brick, with ornamental stone trimmings. It will be four stories in height, and cost $12,000.

The new stone front and extension of the First Presbyterian church, to cost $25,000, is their work, and they planned for the German M. E. Church, on South Chapline street, alterations, a new front and steeple, to cost $7,000; also alterations on St. Paul's church, Ritchietown, to cost $4,000.

Following are some of their most important pieces of work:

Four new brick residences for H. B. Grimm, on Seventeenth street; to cost $15,000.

For Mrs. E. J. Stone, South Front street, Island, a new frame residence; to cost $8,000.

For Henry Jones, a frame residence on the Island, to cost $5,000.

A frame residence for W. H. McKeever, on York street, Island, to cost $3,500; and one for Feargus Whally, on the Island, to cost $3,000; one for Mr. Zinn, to cost $2,000, and one for George Robinson, to cost $2,000, both also on the Island.

Two frame residences for Charles Schmidt, in Belvedere addition, to cost $5,000, and another frame residence in Belvedere, to cost $3,000.

Alterations and additions to the store of A. Bott, South Side, to cost $2,500.

A double brick residence for Mrs. John Truchel, on Fourteenth street, to cost $7,000.

A frame residence for Charles Watkins, on the Island, to cost $2,000.

A frame store building for Thomas Allen, to cost $2,500.

A frame residence for M. Sadunski, in Park View, to cost $2,500.

A residence for Mr. C. B. Hart, at Echo Point, to cost $10,000. This will be one of the tastiest and most artistic homes in the county. It is after the colonial style, and differs from many of those in the vicinity.

A restaurant for H. Schmullach, in Mozart Park, on Caldwell's run, to cost $3,500; also pavilions and halls for the park, and three new stations on the line of the W. & E. G. railway.

The new office building and laboratory for the Reymann Brewing company, built of pressed brick and stone, almost completed; to cost $10,000.

Plans have also been drawn by Leiner & Faris for a new office building, to be built of brick and terra cotta, for the Schulbach Brewing company; the new grand stand, with reserved seat addition, at the state fair grounds; a brick residence for Mr. W. T. Graham, secretary of the Standard iron works, to be erected out the National pike at a cost of $5,000; a frame dwelling for O. J. Sands, of Fairmont, to cost $2,500; the new St. John's Catholic church, at Bellaire, to be built of brick and stone, and to cost $30,000, also a schoolhouse to cost $10,000, and a brick residence for the priests to cost $5,000; and a new Presbyterian church at Martinsburg, W. Va., to be built of brick and ornamented with stone trimmings at a cost of $20,000.

The other architects have also good bookings of work, so that it is very apparent that in growth and improvement Wheeling and vicinity is rapidly in it.

Financially Embarrassed. A large manufacturer, whose affairs were very much embarrassed, and who was overworked and broken down with nervous exhaustion, went to a celebrated specialist. He was told that the only thing needed was to be relieved of care and worry, and have a change of thought. This doctor was more considerate of his patient's health than of his financial circumstances. He ought to have advised him to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, the best remedy for nervous prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, headache, ill effects of spirits, tobacco, coffee, opium, etc. Thousands testify to cures. Book and trial bottle free at Logan Drug Co.'s.

IRWIN-McCABE.

A Pretty Wedding at St. Luke's P. E. Church.

A brilliant gathering of beauty and manhood filled the audience room of the St. Luke's P. E. church, on the Island, at high noon yesterday, when Mr. Wylie Irwin was married to Miss Margaret Josephine McCabe.

The following gentlemen acted as ushers: Messrs. S. B. Harrison, H. Morgan, E. B. Franzheim, R. A. McCabe, Jr., A. B. Butler and Charles W. Last. After they had seated the many friends of the bride and groom, the wedding procession started from the rear of the church and marched toward the altar. First came the ushers, two abreast, followed at a short distance by the two bridesmaids, sisters of the bride, Miss Belle McCabe and Mrs. Charles M. Hughes, of Atlanta, Ga. They were attired in handsome costumes of yellow India silk, with hats and slippers to match, and carried big bunches of yellow roses. After the bridesmaids came the page, Master Edwin Bowie, who carried a basket of flowers. Following the page came the bride, a beautiful type of budding womanhood, leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. R. A. McCabe. The bride was dressed entirely in white and carried bride roses. At the altar they were met by the groom and Mr. Charles Lamb, who acted as best man.

Rev. A. Chapline McCabe, an uncle of the bride, spoke the words which united the two loving hearts.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Irwin were driven to the residence of the bride's parents, where they held a brief and informal reception, and from where they departed on their wedding journey for the east. They were the recipients of countless good wishes and numerous handsome presents from their large circle of friends.
